Welcome from the Co-Chairs

Dear AWFH partners and friends,

We are honored to be co-chairing the annual benefit fashion show "CelebrAsians" for Asian Women for Health (AWFH).

AWFH is building on the success of the Asian Breast Cancer Project and expanding to become the one and only peer-driven, community-based organization in New England dedicated to advancing Asian women's health and wellness through education, advocacy and support.

This benefit fashion show is one example of how AWFH is finding innovative ways to engage, empower and enable Asian women. Ten Asian cancer/trauma survivors will share their inspiring stories and aspirations as they model and showcase the creations of leading Asian designers.

As co-chairs, we have witnessed the impact of AWFH at a personal and professional level since its inception in 2012. The work of AWFH is crucial to improving access and service delivery for underserved and at-risk Asian women, and has mobilized hundreds of community members, providers and policy makers. We can't wait for you to experience the power of AWFH with us.

Sincerely,

Cindy Fang

Designer Profiles

Davey Chhoeun

was born and raised in Lynn, MA and went to college in Boston, receiving a Bachelor's Degree in Fashion Design at Massachusetts College of Art & Design. Her family immigrated from Cambodia in the late 1980's. As a first generation American, she was fascinated with her beautiful heritage and by the stories her father had told her as a child. Inspired from her background, Davey began to follow her passion in design and found it to be challenging though very rewarding. She specializes in Womenswear and Menswear, and currently works as an Associate Designer for Blauer Manufacturer.

Janfrevic Lujares

is a Boston based designer who specializes in both Womenswear and Menswear fashion. Janfrevic was born and raised in the Philippines and moved to the United States at the age of 14. His diverse background and strong Filipino family upbringing inspires his work and is incorporated into his personal designs. Janfrevic holds a Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree in FashionDesign from Massachusetts College of Arts and Design. Today he is working as a full time Textile CAD artist and also designs and constructs custom women's and men's clothing in his spare time.

Philip and Anh Sawyer

believe that clothes are art - a harmony of beauty, practicality, and sustainability. Clothes reflect our uniqueness, they subtly communicate beauty, thoughtfulness and our distinct ideas to the world. PSD likes healthy materials and strives for a zero-waste approach. 10%-15% of our sales have been consistently used to support the arts, education, and drug and violence prevention programs in the US and Southeast Asia.

We design and make our clothes in Boston, MA, in Fort Point, the oldest and largest artist community in the northeast. Our studio and showroom is housed in a redeemed wool warehouse, and is only a few minutes from South Station, Chinatown, and the Financial District. Our studio is also in our home, where we often entertain family and friends.
